Dear John Allen:

Enclosed you will find my check to cover purchasing and mailing Dunn's, Baptism in the Holy Spirit. I'm not through with it yet, but he is a most refreshing student. I appreciate very much what he does with the "promise of the Father" in Luke 24:49 on 47ff.

Thank you so very much for your reading my paper and sending me your observations. Without becoming a pest, I would appreciate your explaining where you are in your thinking on Dunn's explanation of John 3:5 as it bears on the baptism with the Holy Spirit.

By the way, you write that "The only real question I guess I have is how to make this distinction between Jesus' promise to the Apostles and his role as Holy Spirit baptizer." In my phone conversation with you later I got the impression that perhaps the little mimeographed supplement has satisfied you. Is that correct?

Thanks again for reading my paper and giving me some of your thoughts. Also, we still are receiving good from your visit to San Diego. Give Sue our love.

Let me know if Steve will read my paper.

Your brother,

Dear Miss Mathis:

I am obviously ~~not~~ the person to whom you should have sent your letter of instructions, ~~dated~~ March 3. I do not handle mass mailings for Camp Shiloh. I simply believe in the work being done, I know many of the people involved in the various ministries, and I took advantage of the opportunity to ask you and others to contribute. Your letter ~~should~~ have gone directly to Camp Shiloh and its officials, where I have forwarded it.

I deeply regret the offense it caused you. I hope this will not keep you from the proper stewardship of your time, talent, and money. Please accept my apology for the rude intrusion, as you saw it, through this latest request for support of Camp Shiloh.

Sincerely yours,

John Allen Chalk
